

Swimming Pool Opening Is June 17

Experienced Swimming Teacher Gives Lessons And Plans Swim Events

The Arlington Heights swimming pool will open on June 17 instead of June 15 as was originally planned. The delay of one week was necessary to complete the staff and to secure some new equipment.

The park board Tuesday evening secured as swim instructor the services of George Green, a senior in Northwestern who comes to Arlington Heights with a strong recommendation from Tom Robinson, dean of swimming instructors in the U. S.

Mr. Green who secures his degree in physical education next semester at Northwestern has had training under Robinson and himself is one of two men who hold medalist championship swimming medals from the Eckhart pool, an award that is only given every fifth year. He gave diving exhibitions at the Chicago world's fair in 1934 and has had other training that makes him especially well qualified for the position, in the opinion of Mr. Robinson, who is chairman of the United States Olympic Swimming committee.

In addition to routine work at the pool Green will give group and individual swimming lessons to beginning and experienced swimmers, for which there is already evidence of a big need in Arlington Heights where a great many children have been denied swimming privileges and training in the past.

One of the first jobs of Mr. Green will be the direction of a water event which will be part of the July Fourth celebration promoted by the Civic and Trade association. It was through Mr. Geo. Schneberger, chairman of the water sports committee for the celebration and himself a former Northwestern athlete that Green was introduced to Arlington Heights. The two with the approval of the general committee will have an unusual program of water sports, including championship divers and probably a water ballet.

Mr. Green's real job, however, will be the promotion of the pool at Recreation park for the benefit of local citizens. The sale of season swim tickets at special reduced rates are still open and can be obtained from any member of the park board.

Secure Park Superintendent The park board last week hired John Hickey, of South Haddow as park superintendent for the present season. Mr. Hickey's experience in camp management and boy scout work was such that the board members felt themselves fortunate in securing such a man for the position. The money provided by taxes would not permit the further retention of Walter Koerber, who has been the engineer in charge of construction work up to this period.

Last Assets of Palatine Bank To Be Sold

The final chapter of the First National Bank of Palatine will be written in the banking room of the old bank, on Thursday, June 15, when the remaining assets of the bank will be sold at auction by the receiver.

This final sale will dispose of all left over assets which have not been sold at private sale and will wind up the affairs of the bank.

Shortly after this final sale, the receivership will be terminated and a final payment of an estimated 30% will be paid to creditors of the institution.

Palatine's No. 1 "Enemy" Is No More

Big Hole in Business District Filled In

The day of miracles isn't over after all. One happened in Palatine Monday morning that completely took the breath out of everyone who witnessed it.

It was all caused when a fleet of trucks and a gang of workmen started filling the brick block hole.

Even the contractor himself was on the job, hat off and working like a beaver.

So at last it looks as if that unsightly spot in the center of Palatine was about to be put in order.

And everyone that saw the dawning of that great miracle heaved a huge sigh and shouted "At last praise be to Allah."

ANON-"Government" Men Claim Overtime

The "whistle blasters" depending upon the Arlington Heights 12 o'clock noon whistle for a complete compliance with "union rules" did not know that Engineer Windheim, formerly night man at the central pumping station, had been transferred to the day shift.

Windheim's first day on the "fast time trick" last Thursday proved to be so eventful that he completely forgot to sound the regular noon time quitting siren. So the workers kept on working and the "leaners" kept their stance until the return of their "white" collared fellows from Coffee-and-revealed that a gross injustice had been unconsciously perpetrated.

Thus in breaking a record of some ten years standing, Windheim sets a new record by getting an extra hour's time out of a 28 hour week.

P. S.—The real purpose of the 12 o'clock whistle, we are told is a daily test to make sure that same is in working condition in case of fire or other emergency. Friday's test showed same to be in a howling condition.

Annual Scout Camporee at Deer Grove

Scouting is camping and the best training that a boy can receive is camping by Patrols with his own Troop.

On June 17 and 18, the Annual Camporee of the Northwest Suburban Council Boy Scouts of America will be held at the Deer Grove Forest Preserve where Troops will camp by Patrols using their own camp equipment and demonstrating their ability to set up camp, provide for their comfort and carry out a camping program.

Each Patrol will be rated according to their standing based on inspection in four different sections. These are: Personal inspection, campcraft, Scoutcraft and projects.

Points are 1000. Patrols scoring 800 to 1000 points rate an "A" Camporee Patrol and will be awarded a blue ribbon. Patrols scoring 600 to 799 rates as a "B" Patrol and will be awarded a red ribbon. Patrols scoring 400 to 599 points rates as a "C" Patrol and will be awarded a white ribbon.

There is also an attendance banner to be awarded based on the number of visitors attending the Camporee and figured by the registered members of the Troop and the number of miles from the headquarters city of the Troop.

The program Sunday afternoon will consist of a number of projects in first aid, knot tying, tent pitching and fire building which will be interesting to the spectators.

The campfire Saturday evening will be another interesting feature for visitors and it is expected that a large number of parents and friends of Scouting will be in attendance.

Camp registrations are pouring into Scout Headquarters for the summer training camp conducted by the Northwest Suburban Council Boy Scouts of America at Camp On-De-Ko-la near Burlington, Wisconsin.

Camp opens on June 25 and will continue for eight weekly periods. The campers check in on Sunday afternoon and the first meal in camp is Sunday night supper. Scoutmaster C. J. Taylor of Explorer Troop 6 of Des Plaines will be a member of the camp staff this year and will serve as Director of the Pioneer Village in place of Richard Vandy of Troop 14, Des Plaines, who was previously assigned to that position.

Other members of the staff from the Northwest Suburban Council are: Frank Griffin of Troop 2, Park Ridge; Robert Wehrmann and Howard Yates of Troop 6, Des Plaines, and Jack Modie of Troop 7, Arlington Heights.

All Scouts planning to attend camp this summer are urged to get in their registrations just as soon as possible as the periods are rapidly filling up and it is necessary to make an early registration in order to be assured the period desired.

The section of camp set aside for the Cubs has been extended one additional week and at the present time the first and second weeks of the Cub Camp, July 30 to August 13, are filled and there are only a few places remaining in the third week, August 13 to 20.

Eagles To Hold Installation Monday

Park Ridge Aerie 2169 of the Fraternal Order of Eagles will hold their installation of officers on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, June 12th, at Eagles Hall, 1517 Ellinwood Ave., Des Plaines, Ill.

This will be a public installation and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Semi-Annual Welfare Clinic For Children

Physician and Dentist Will Examine Two to 5-Year-Olds, June 20

The Public Health committee of Arlington Heights has announced that the semi-annual clinic for children from two to five years of age, will be held on Tuesday, June 20, at 3:00 p. m. At this clinic, which will be at the health center in the village hall, a doctor and a dentist will be in attendance. Examinations of children will be made and recommendations for needed treatments will be given. It is very important, the committee feels, that children of this age should be examined periodically, since needed corrective treatments can often be secured when they will do the most good. Parents are urged to follow the recommendations and take the children to the family physician or dentist for necessary treatments.

The infant welfare clinic, which furnishes the same services to children under two years, will be held on the same date, June 20, from 1:00 to 3:00 o'clock. This clinic is held regularly each month. It is served by local doctors and dentists and the public health nurse. While no children are excluded from it, obviously it would be impossible to serve all the children of the community if they were to come. The committee requests that parents who are able to do so should secure the same examinations and advice at the offices of their family physician and dentist. All others should bring their children for regular examination and for diet recommendations.

"White Hats" and Slot Machines Told To Go

State Officials Threaten Revocation Of Licenses

Those well dressed, dark complected sleek looking gentlemen who wear light hats and have an uncanny ability to slide around public officials, save the itching palms of politicians and get about what they want from the invisible government of Cook county, have been bluntly told to pack up and go.

And at last heeding the voice of their master, they have packed up their slot machines and left.

The long rows of the "One Armed Bandits" have suddenly vanished from the Harlem and other pretentious gambling joints in the county.

The lid is on and according to Attorney General John E. Cassidy, it is on to stay.

Irked by the flagrant and open law violations in Cook county, Mr. Cassidy came to Chicago last week and called a meeting.

At that meeting besides the Attorney General of the state were Arthur S. Smith, chairman of the Illinois Liquor Control board, Walter Williams, chief of the state highway police, Wilbert F. Crowley, first assistant state's attorney of Cook county and Lester Laird, chief of the county highway police.

It was said to have been a friendly meeting but Mr. Cassidy was firm, "the slot machines must go" and they went.

And the state is not going to depend upon the county authorities to see that they stay gone.

The state police and investigators from Mr. Cassidy's office will keep an eye on things.

And where a slot machine is found in a tavern, the state will revoke that tavern license according to Mr. Smith.

All of which shows what can be done when the officials who are sworn to enforce the law, really bear down and do it.

This publication, four weeks ago, told the story of wide open Cook county. A big Chicago daily paper followed up with the same kind of a story two weeks later. Then came the Attorney General and now the slot machines have gone, the heat is on and the attorney general says it's on to stay.

Hen Mothers Kittens on Palatine Farm

We have heard a lot of strange stories of the actions of farm animals, but this week Otto Freeman of Palatine came to bat with the best one in a long time.

Otto has got a big cochin hen out on his farm 3 miles west of Palatine and that hen has adopted a bunch of little kittens. She hovers over them and mothers them the same as she would a flock of little chicks.

The mother cat is still on the job, too, and the whole gang are just one big, happy family, only maybe those kittens are a bit bewildered by all the attention they are getting and probably a little warm this hot weather when that big "cluck" spreads out over them.

Coalition Easy Winner in Country Towns

With the exception of a few precincts the judicial candidates under the Democratic banner were as easy winners in the northwest towns as they were in the entire county. The Republicans made little or no effort to get out the vote. Schaumburg was the only township to stay in the Republican column if the small vote of 56 Republican to 31 Democratic means anything.

The bond propositions were given the same treatment as the Republican candidates. The voters showed that they were overwhelmingly against any more county bond issues, even for charitable purposes.

Only a Few Days and Goodbye Freight House

As the Herald goes to press the final O. K. by the North Western Railroad for the demolition of present freight house is in the hands of the Trade and Civic association. It will not be long before that sixty year old freight house, a relic of pioneer days in Arlington Heights, will no longer be an eyesore of the business district.

The financial part still awaits solution, but the board of directors who have placed their names on the dotted line guaranteeing individually the erection of the new freight house, feel sure that every board torn from that old building will mean a dollar for the building fund.

Plans for the financial drive to cover the cost have not yet been completed as the association is so busy making plans for the big community celebration July 4th.

Open Letter To Arlington Dads, Mothers

An urgent appeal to all Dads and Mothers:

A very sad accident happened at Crystal Lake on Memorial Day about 3 p. m. Some children were playing around the railroad station. An engine was taking on water while a passenger train was coming into the station. One of the boys did not see the passenger train and ran across the tracks in back of the engine taking water and stepped directly into the path of the oncoming passenger train. The result was that the small body was cut in two.

We have a great many children in this locality that take great delight in playing around the depot and are repeatedly warned not to do so. We try to tell them in a nice way what might happen. Some of the children will listen while others think it is ever so funny.

With all the park space in this beautiful village there is no reason why the children should pick out the railroad station as a hang-out and I am urgently asking all Dads and Mothers to have a heart to heart talk with their children and advise them to stop playing around the station. I would not for the world want anything to happen to the kiddies, such as happened at Crystal Lake Memorial Day. We at the station like children, and will go a long way to see that they are in safety at all times, but it must be understood we would like the cooperation of the parents and keep them from the station grounds at all times. Many thanks to the Dads and Mothers in cooperating with me in this line.

W. C. Lange, Station Agent.

W. F. Karsten New Lions Club President

Walter Karstens was elected president of the Arlington Heights Lions Club Tuesday evening.

N. M. Lattot is the new secretary and treasurer. The other officers are: First Vice-President Wm. Lussman; Second Vice-President, Roscoe Reed; Third Vice-President, Henry L. Hagenbrink; Fourth Vice-President, Carl M. Behrens; Tail Twister, G. Rex Volz; Lion Tamer, C. V. Baker; Directors, Ernest Malzahn, Wm. Mueller, Geo. Schimmling, Hugo J. Thal.

The club now has over sixty members and while the only thing left on the calendar is the annual club picnic, the club is ready to assist the trade and civic association in the centennial celebration next fall. The milk fund bottles will be continued in an effort to collect sufficient funds within the next few weeks to cover the expenditures all next year. The bottles are at almost every business house.

New City Directory Is On The Way

With the approval of the board of directors of the Arlington Heights Trade and Civic association, a 1939 city directory is being compiled by H. C. Paddock Sons. It is four years since the last issue and there appears to be a demand for an up-to-date listing of residents of the city.

Mrs. M. F. Daniels and daughter, Jean, have active charge of the issue.

Police Capture Barrington Boy

Friend of Family Walks Into Arms Of Palatine Officer

Officer Wm. Kable of the Palatine police trapped a burglar in the act of robbing the home of Louis Haemker at 260 N. Brockway st., Tuesday evening.

Willard Abbot of Barrington was the man captured by the local police.

Abbot who had been a friend of the Haemker family was well acquainted with the premises and was suspected of previously having taken things from the home.

The fact that the Haemker family were all at the graduation exercises left the home easy prey to Abbot, or so he thought.

But officer Kable had been planted in the home for three nights waiting for just such a visit as was expected that the young man would make another raid while the family were gone.

At about 9:30 the door opened, Abbot knowing evidently where the key was hidden, and in he walked right into the arms of the waiting officer.

The culprit was locked up for the night and appeared Wednesday morning before Judge Steinbrink where he was held to the grand jury for burglary.

Must Fight To Save Home Rule Of Relief Adm.

Led by the township supervisors, county officials from all over Illinois met in Springfield on Wednesday, June 7, to protest against the Ward relief bills which would set up a social worker oligarchy over relief administration in Illinois and would take taxing powers out of the hands of local communities.

James R. Cannell, president of the Illinois Association of Township Officials, announced today: "The 1400 township supervisors and the 51 county commissioners, joined by such other county officers as are able to attend, will convene in Springfield for a hearing on the un-American attempt to perpetuate a class of reliefers," Cannell said. "In all of our 53 years of handling paupers, the county poor farms, and in recent years, relief administration, have we been consulted about the operation of the administration of relief. Now we intend to make ourselves heard."

"These Ward bills, which would turn relief problems over to a clique of professional social workers who would be given the power to dictate how much money must be raised by local elected officers, and how it was to be spent, are a more serious threat to democracy in this State than the attack on the United States Supreme Court was."

Not only would it make elected local authorities mere puppets in the hands of an appointive commission and remove taxing powers from the local community, but it would make political plunder out of 8,000 new jobs and turn relief from an emergency measure into a permanent condition.

"Our organization and the affiliated organizations of the Illinois Association of County Officers are unalterably opposed to legislation of this type and to the high-handed and dictatorial methods used by some of our elected officials at Springfield and Chicago who are attempting to foist it upon us," Cannell concluded.

Drop Euclid Ave. Widening

Arlington Heights village board, after studying the plans for the widening of Euclid ave., decided that 160 trees on that street meant more to the town than any benefit that would have been obtained by the improvement. They were surprised when they learned the large number of trees that would have been sacrificed.

Euclid ave. will continue to be a narrow and rough st. A petition against the improvement presented to the board included nearly 500 feet of frontage.

PWA Makes Last Payment to District 23 For New School

Public Works Administrator Harold L. Ickes has notified D. R. Kennicott, Director of Public Works Administration (PWA), Region No. 2, with headquarters in Chicago, that a check in the amount of $3,172 is being released to School District No. 23, as third payment on a PWA grant for Wheeling township. There were two previous payments of $6,818 and $2,282, making the total to date $12,272.

This payment completes share of government for construction of school building, purchasing equipment, wrecking the old school building and the acquisition of additional land.

The PWA awarded a grant of $12,272 to carry on this work, the estimated cost of the project being $27,272.

Band Concerts Start Friday at Field House

Arlington Heights high school band will present the first of a series of open air concerts at the new field house Friday evening, June 9, starting at 7:30 o'clock. These concerts will continue for the month of June.

Recreation Park makes possible many features and in this case, the general public can enjoy the summer concerts away from the downtown district and railway trains. The members of the band deserve recognition and a large audience that evening will encourage them to increased efforts.

17 Year Locust Arrives in a Big Way

Not Worth Getting Excited About, Says Farm Adviser Hughes

This paper has received several excited telephone calls this week from readers who reside near forest preserves and wooded sections. They tell about the arrival of millions of locusts and ask what can be done about it. The answer is "nothing, because there is very little to get excited about."

Referring the matter to Mr. Hughes, Cook County Farm Adviser, the editor learns that he has included a special story on the matter that appears on the farm page of this week's edition. In addition he has offered the following bulletin that he received from W. P. Flint, chief entomologist of the state experimental station.

PERIODICAL CICADA OF 17 YEAR LOCUST

"These insects do very little feeding in their adult stage. In fact, many of them do not feed at all. Occasionally individuals will suck the sap from the new growth on the twigs of trees, that is, the growth of the current year, but will not cause any damage. The only injury caused by the insect which is of any importance is that resulting from the female cicada laying her eggs in the twigs of various trees and large shrubs. In order to provide a place for the eggs, she splits and splinters the twigs with the blades of her ovipositor and then lays the eggs side by side in this splintered opening in the twigs. These openings are usually from one to three inches long. If a single one is made in a rather large twig, little if any harm results. Where half a dozen or more cicadas lay in a twig a quarter of an inch in diameter, the end of the twig usually breaks off or the splintering is sufficient to interfere with the circulation of the sap and the leaves on the end of the twig die."

"On the forest trees this injury is not serious. By the first of July many of the forest trees in northern Illinois will have hundreds of these dead twigs on the ends of their branches and will give the impression that the trees are dying. By the end of the summer most of these twigs will have dropped off and by next year the injury will hardly be noticeable."

"On fruit trees the damage is more serious because of the fact that these trees are pruned to a certain type and the killing of the twigs interferes with the proper shaping of the tree. The same is true, of course, of ornamental shrubs or small trees."

"Valuable small trees and shrubs can be screened with

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
"God the Only Cause and Creator" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 4.
The Golden Text was, "The Lord reigneth, he is clothed with majesty; the Lord is clothed with strength, wherewith he hath girded himself: the world also is established, that it cannot be moved" (Psalms 133:1).
Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Thou, even thou, art Lord alone: thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with their host, the earth and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshippeth thee" (Nehemiah 9:6).
The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "There is but one creator and one creation. This creation consists of the unfolding of spiritual ideas and their identities, which are embraced in the Infinite Mind and forever reflected. These ideas range from the infinitesimal to infinity, and the highest ideas are the sons and daughters of God" (pp. 502-3).

Art Gehrke, Former Herald Employee Now A Dad
Arthur C. Gehrke, foreman of the Des Plaines Journal, who served his apprenticeship in the office of Paddock Publications, is a happy dad. The youngster is a son, named Carl Wynn. Des Plaines is now the permanent home of Mr. and Mrs. Gehrke, as they have purchased a home in that city. Announcement of the new arrival appeared in last week's Journal as follows:
"True to the tradition of getting things done just in time for publication, Mms. Arthur Gehrke became the parents of a 7 pound 14 1/2 ounce son this morning (Thursday). The new boss of the Journal shop foreman appeared at the Northwestern hospital at 5:15 a. m., just about the right time for Art to be present and still have time enough to compose himself, after a fashion, buy cigars, and be ready to start work at the regular time."

Lions Are Road Pest
"Watch out for lions," in Africa's Kruger National park is the equivalent of "watch out for cattle" in the United States. While lions are no danger to travelers, the automobiles of tourists can be a real danger to the animals.
Lions will often lie in the middle of one of the park's roads, apparently oblivious of an automobile's approach. When the car is only a few feet away, the animal will rise calmly, stretch itself and saunter off the road, to lie down once more.

N. W. Offers Vacation Tours

June, popularly the month of brides and briars (rose) has another significance for the Chicago & North Western railway—it is the month when its famed week-end tours for the summer are swung into the travel picture. There are nine of these gala tours, which run from one day to a week and afford hundreds of miles of sightseeing by rail, motor car and boat. The majority are within a few hours ride of Chicago.

North Western refers to these trips as its "Tour Bargain Counter" and on this "counter" are the following summer travel offerings:

The Wisconsin Dells, one of the most delightful regions in the central west.

Devil's Lake State Park (Wis.), a wee bit of the Rockies where rugged scenery prevails.

Mississippi Palisades, a rail motor coach trip along the Mississippi, unsurpassed for scenic beauty.

Pleasant Valley, combination rail and motor tour through scenic regions in northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin.

Mississippi Cruise, a glorious 185-mile boat trip on the bosom of the Father of Waters.

Lake Geneva, rail and boat trip to the Killarney of the West.

Lake Michigan Cruise, a combination lake trip to Milwaukee and rail trip back to Chicago.

Bicycle trips, to Palatine, Deer Grove, Twin Lakes, Genoa City, trips that will intrigue the most ardent cyclist.

Finally, the Black Hills of South Dakota, a region famed for scenic beauty, romance and historic lore.

All these tours are all-expense, one price covers everything, fares, lodgings, meals and sightseeing trips.

All trips start from Chicago and the purchaser may choose from a list of one, two, three or four day tours, up to a week or longer in the Black Hills. They are ideal for the family man, who seeks to give his family a "different" outing over a week end, or a holiday. All tours will continue during the summer into the first week in September.

Inasmuch as this is their first game and there were many changes in the personnel of last year, it is difficult to give much specific pregame dope, we can only say the girls will be full of try and hustle, as none of them are certain of their jobs.

Don't forget, tonight, Friday, June 9, and every Friday from now on there will be a girls game at the Arlington Recreation field.

Be on hand and root your girls home.

Oldest Form of Gambling

The Encyclopedia of Sports says that the oldest form of gambling is with dice, which were known to earliest civilization. Recently there was dug out of ancient Mesopotamia a pair of dice at least 50 centuries old, still in good enough state of preservation to be used for gambling today. Most of the tombs along the ancient Nile have produced dice, some accompanied by cups and boards.

"YOUR HUSBAND HAS PNEUMONIA"

By C. W. Lussman of Sieburg Pharmacy

These are terrifying words when pronounced by your family doctor. For pneumonia is no light matter—it takes a fatal toll every year. The slightest infection of cold should be treated instantly as a serious threat against health, against life itself.

Skilled medical care has saved many a life, will continue to save lives where people are wise enough to call the doctor in time. Many a physician has shaken his head over a patient whom he could have saved, if called earlier.

Certain forms of pneumonia respond to serums, other phases require different remedies. In either event trust prescriptions only to a pharmacist in whom the public has confidence.

Introducing Arlington Little Folks

It is all boys this week. There is not a household in Arlington Heights which would not open its doors to either of these boys and perhaps both of them at once.

The smiling boy at the right is James Dix, 3½ years, who resides with his mother at 123 S. Mitchell. He has brown hair and eyes, spends his time out of doors as much as possible and his pal is his dog, Jack. Photo by Rutledge Studio, Oak Park.

Fifty Little Tots Examined in Summer Round-Up of PTA

There are fifty little tots entering school for the first time next fall, who will be in better condition physically for that stage of their life, thanks to the summer round-up directed by the P.T.A., of which Mrs. V. A. Sturm is chairman.

In response to notices published in the Herald and letters sent to school families, the committee is very pleased with the result. Its success is primarily due to the cooperation of the following physicians and dentists: Dr. W. A. Schimmel, Dr. A. G. Prieto, Dr. H. G. Dunn, Dr. E. W. Bauman.

Mrs. Sturm has asked the Herald to express the appreciation of the P.T.A. to the above doctors and her personal appreciation to Nurse Pino and her committee composed of Mrs. Hartman, Mrs. Elizabeth Meyers, Misses Marcia Ruth and Jane Martens.

It Happened Here

"My garden is a lovesome thing,
God wot;
Rose plot,
Fringed pool,
Fern grot
The veriest school
Of peace, and yet the fool
Contents that God is not;
Not God in gardens when the sun is cool—
Nay, but I have a sign—
'Tis very sure God walks in mine."
Life seems to center about the garden, these days; the iris calls us with its clusters and ranks of purple and gold and orchid—verily, a rainbow has been broken up and broadcast to gladden our eager eyes; the lemon lilies, with their old fashioned fragrance, recall gardens long gone and overgrown with weeds and brambles; the bird bath is a reflecting pool for leaf shadows, drifting clouds and swaying irises—even the birds find enchantment, gazing down into that mirror, especially when the iris colors are reflected there; through the day, leaf patterns on the grass plot weave and unweave at the will of some happy chance; all morning long, the very sings from his crotch in the neighboring apple tree, his golden notes a perfect match for the green and gold of the swaying branches—a lovesome thing, our garden, and no fool walks in it.

PALATINE HIGH SCHOOL BOYS LEARN BUILDING TRADES IN PRACTICAL CONSTRUCTION

The snap shot of the complete field equipment house built by the Palatine High School students in industrial arts, was taken before it was painted. The others show the project in its various stages of construction with Teacher Allen directing the boys how to place the finishing touches to the roof.

Get Practical Experience In Building Trades

Recognizing the growing need of vocational education in our high schools, the Palatine high school put into operation the past year a course in building trades, operating in accordance with the Smith-Hughes act which provides financial aid of the state toward the expenses of that department. The department was placed in charge of C. T. Allen, who in addition to 14 years teaching experience has had four years practical trade experience. At the closing day of the school Tuesday, the class was completing the last of eighteen separate and distinct projects as follows:

- Two car garage (20x20), William Lohse.
- Six study tables for library. Partition in East Study Hall.
- Installed two blackboards.
- Installed electric stove in home economics room.
- Playground equipment box.
- Gate in north fence of athletic field.
- Picture frames for building.
- Electrical repairs in building.
- Lumber storage rack.
- Rearranged shop equipment and cabinets, H. Kincaid.
- Track marker.
- Repair track equipment.
- Sandbox for fourth grade.
- Shelves in supply room.
- Field equipment house (16x20 ft.), P. T. H. S.
- Drinking fountain, gift class of 1934.

Will Build House Next Year

Mr. Allen expects that arrangements will be complete that will permit the class to erect a new house the coming year. The first project last fall was a two-car garage for a private owner. He was only required to pay for the material used. Mr. Allen has offered to build a complete house under same arrangements.

This year's class included fifteen boys, the majority of them residents of the village. The ground work received by these boys gives them a beginning knowledge of such work whether or not they enter any of the trades. They are: John Booth, Wallace Cramer, Geo. Howes, Norman Lohse, John Martin, Francis Muehlhoff, Milford Fink, Harry Pochebako, Raymond Heiden, Clifford Wente, Harlow Smith, Billie Ehret, Henry Pasch, David Neagle, Marvin Peterson.

The enrollment for next year is 22.

Magnolia and Flowering Dogwood at Palatine

Botanist-Writer Reports These Trees Of Rare Beauty

by HERMANN C. BENKE

During my recent visits with my camera about Palatine I was agreeably surprised to find so great a variety of flowers, shrubs and trees about the homes and gardens of Palatine.

Were I to list all I saw, it would include about everything of the florists' catalogues; tender house exotics, hardy garden and rock garden plants, borders and hedges, and noble trees of orchards and roadsides. But of special interest because of their outstanding beauty in early spring flowering and rarity in our latitude are several species of trees of the Southland which one would hardly expect to find here in so thriving a state—if at all.

In an article published in this paper, the issue of Sept. 20, 1935, I reported the Kentucky Coffee tree (Gymnocladus dioica L. Koch) in Palatine, and a fine tree situated on the walk near the Schmidt Bros. Market was fully described and a picture of it reproduced. This tree is now much larger, towering far over the store-building. Being of the Pea or Bean family (Leguminosae), by some authors in the sub-family of the Sennas (Caesalpinieae), its fruits are of the familiar pods, of a conspicuously large size in this tree in favorable years in great profusion, giving it a magnificent fall and winter aspect. I note with pleasure that many of my friends, particularly of the student population have heeded the advice of the editor and preserved the issue of the paper, or the article, so it may be readily referred to.

When I saw a tree of the hardy magnolia of the type of Magnolia Soulangiana in blossom in the spacious front yard of Mr. Wm. G. Ost, on West Wood st., I was carried back at once to Dixieland. Magnolia is such a forcible reminder of our Southern States, where I spent many happy hours, having traveled over them extensively in past years. Oft have I been charmed by the mocking-bird's song as it came from among the shiny leaves and great blossoms of this noblest of our southern trees. Mr. Ost's tree is yet quite young—not much more than a sapling—but it already had a number of those beautiful large flowers, four to six inches in size, the petals white on the inner surface and variously rose or blue-purple outside, so characteristic of the magnolia family (Magnoliaceae).

This family contains a number of species, mostly too tender for our climate, but hardy hybrids are obtained by crossing certain Japanese species, as Magnolia Yulan with our Magnolia obovata of the Southern States.

It is a strange fact that the crossing of these tender species produce a hybrid that is quite hardy, so we may enjoy this magnificent tree, beautiful even in leaf and in fall when bearing those peculiar cones. These latter usually drop off during winter.

The finest specimens of the hardy magnolia in all this region, to my knowledge, are found in several grand little trees in Arlington Heights. These have been the subjects of my write-ups in papers and magazines.

An exceedingly pretty tree at East Fremont near Evergreen which I have described before, is now grander than ever—age only enhances its beauty—and when a mass of the great blossoms in early spring, before the leaves, it is a sight to take one's breath away. Another tree, very similar, stands in the next yard to the north.

I was greatly surprised, but genuinely pleased when I came upon a fine thrifty specimen of our little Southland tree, the Flowering Dogwood (Cornus florida L.), most beautiful of all dogwoods, in the roomy grounds of Mrs. H. H. Hart on N. Plum Grove near Richmond ave., now occupied by the G. D. Andrews family.

The dogwoods are of the Cornaceae family botanically, related to the Umbelliferae or Carrot family. I thought at once of the terraces between Washington, D. C. and Richmond, Va., where I saw these trees at their best and in the greatest profusion, many of the flowers red-bracted instead of the usual white.

I was not able to obtain the history of the Palatine tree, whether self-sown or planted; its age, etc. From Mr. T. C. Hart, whom I interviewed. It has a good sunny location, is quite thrifty, and was well in blossom on May 21, when the accompanying picture was taken. Its size, about the average for this species, may be judged by comparing the person of the author of this discourse who stands in the foreground, with the tree. Note the flat top of the tree, and most of the flowers photographed sideways. They would make a much better showing were they seen from above, as from an airplane.

The cluster of real flowers, yellowish or greenish, at the center, is not very conspicuous; it is the large white, pink or rose-purple bracts, usually four in number, surrounding these that make the show, making "flowers" some three inches across, which, when in great masses give the little tree its beauty and popularity.

This tree develops many small clusters of fleshy fruits, but they are rather acid, not relished by most birds, yet it may be spread somewhat by them. In fact, I have seen several other of these dogwoods about Palatine, but they are in shaded situations and do not thrive, having but few blossoms or none, and poor growth.

The Kentucky Coffee Tree, before mentioned is the parent of two younger trees in the next yard to the north. Trees or other plants from another latitude have not the habit of spreading much, if at all, but in favorable situations may become acclimated as in the specimen illustrated.

Like the Kentucky Coffee Tree, the Flowering Dogwood is a distinctly American tree—native to our country—and worthy of more extensive plantings, knowing that it will thrive in this region, a heritage to be appreciated.

School Patron Speaks Up On Public School Situation

THERE IS Excitement in Palatine.

"Yes! There definitely is excitement in Palatine. A veritable civil war with rumors, rumors and more rumors. Charges and counter charges. Propaganda and gossip. And all about what? For the life of me I can't figure it at all. It is the middle and where does it end. So I'm starting right in and adding my penny's worth to the rest of the mess.

"First of all I'll begin with the rumor that concerns me directly. The rumor that I wrote the article entitled 'Can Five Teachers Be Wrong?' appearing in a recent edition of the Enterprise. I am indeed highly complimented, but being a modest soul I can not, honestly accept the compliment. But I doff my hat and give my cheers to the lady who did write it. There have been a lot of accusations of the teachers, principal and school board, but these were the first words of defense I have heard. And so I join rank with my fellow alumna of P. T. H. S. in defense of our teachers, principal and school board.

"The situation reminds me a great deal of the early Lady's Day at Wrigley Field. Being somewhat of a baseball fan myself and having a pretty good knowledge of the game, I used to hear with amazement the loud cheering and hurrahs when an easy infield fly was caught (a simple play) and only boos when the third baseman making a fine try for a line drive succeeded in deflecting it so that the charging outfielder coming in could make a play at second thereby turning a sure double into a single. A play much more difficult and requiring perfect co-operation. So I'm wondering today, if all this mumble jumble of rumors aren't the cheers, still loud and long, for the infield fly and the boos simply unjustifiable and lacking in knowledge of the game.

"Let's organize a team and play ball according to the rules. Let your wrath loose on the umpire if you will. But play ball. The school board will be the Judge Landis of our little game. They have definite rules to follow and we the people, who elect them should be sure that they are qualified for the office. These qualifications to consist of sound knowledge of educational methods, and administrative ability. After all you wouldn't send in a man who had never seen a bat to pinch hit with the tying run on base.

"It is the duty of the school board member to acquaint himself with all duties pertinent to his office, and as a Judge Landis it should certainly be the duty of the board to listen impartially to the defense as well as the plaintiff and then give a fair decision. It sometimes takes courage and 'guts' (a very fine medical word) or, if you prefer intestinal fortitude to do this. Is the cheering that we hear for the simple infield out? Now then let's on to the Pitcher.

"The principal, Mr. Clettenberg. What has he done for the team in this game? Why, he is the man who is directly responsible for the book rental system. Do you remember back a few years back when our children were using text books with pages torn out and edited some twenty-three years ago? Hygiene books filled with misinformation? Well I do and I also remember that nothing was done about it until along came Mr. Clettenberg.

"He is also directly responsible for starting a library, and for the past year has driven into Chicago at least once a month and through personal contacts arranged to bring out to the children of Palatine a great number of books. And he is directly responsible for a central supply system whereby the purchasing is done in such a manner as to get the most for the Tax Payers money. All this was not easy but it was a splendid contribution to the school. And so again wonder if we aren't cheering the simple infield out and booing the line drive.

"As for the teachers. Is it their fault that the colleges and normal schools are all teaching and advocating the so-called new teaching methods. I don't approve of it particularly myself, but certainly I don't blame the teachers. And, a good many of these methods are not new. The Phonetic method was taught when I went to school and the 'new' phrase 'method' is now taught. Do you know that this is an old old method. How do I know? Because I was fortunate enough to look through a teachers' text book, and dog-gone me if it wasn't very much like present day readers without the pictures and the books were in use in 1870. And so history repeats itself.

"As far as discipline is concerned, the home and the school used to be ruled by the rod. Today we try to rule by instilling a respect for authority law and order. It therefore follows that there must be a close cooperation between the school and the home if this respect is to be maintained. Certainly there can be no respect for authority in the school if there is no respect for authority in the home. This is a much more difficult task and I believe a much more lasting one. So let us not be cheering the infield fly and booing the line drive.

"And a tip to you modern parents. In the home I still find the rule of a very persuasive instrument just to have around even though seldom necessary to use. I feel that we as parents if we are sincerely interested in the school as a whole and not in just our own children then we should play ball with the school board and the school staff. If there are problems that need attention, let us as parents give them our unbiased consideration; meet with the school board and the school staff and find out where the trouble lies. After all, there is nothing that exposes the ignorance of a people quite so much as the spreading of false rumors and malicious gossip. Or is history repeating itself and shall we go back to the burning of witches and the wearing of Scarlet Letters. I don't think so.

"Let us rather make it our business to elect men and women to the school board who are qualified to hold that position and see to it that they acquaint themselves with the duties and responsibilities of that office. And then, let us give the board our loyal support.

"Let us each year at the beginning of the term go over the school program with the principal and offer him our suggestions or objections. Let us meet with our respective teachers, discuss the child with her and let her know that we are giving her our whole hearted support.

"And finally let us send our children to school next year with the firm idea that the teachers authority is absolute and is to be respected and obeyed.

"And for the love of fairness and good sportsmanship, shout if you must for the infield fly, but for gosh sakes don't expose your ignorance of the game by shouting boo at the line drive."

Lena D. Inkster.

Consolidation Is The Answer

Is the little one-room, one-teacher school house in Palatine Township still to remain and continue to try to convince the parents and the public that one teacher can teach thirty, forty and sometimes fifty children in eight grades and give them an education so that they can compete in a highly competitive world with young men and women being educated in modern schools such as are available in cities and towns?

There was a meeting held at District 16 on May 9 this year between Noble J. Puffer, his assistant and the directors of five of the school districts. Inasmuch as the people were turned away from this meeting and the meeting held behind closed doors we do not know what progress was made towards remedying the disgraceful conditions existing in the rural districts. But we do hope that they did something to open the road to abolish forever the one and two classes daily that the children are now getting in the country schools. This is causing them to stumble through high school due to their poor foundation on which to build an education.

We all know that the finest thing that we, as parents and a Community, can give our children and the young people of our Community is a good education. As we are now, we are failing in that. We are cheating all of the children in our Community in our mania for economy. And have we really got economy after we have cheated our children by sending them to a one-room, one-teacher school to receive their one and if lucky, two classes per day? We have not! We, District 13, are paying the same rate as Palatine, $1.07, and many of the districts are paying even more.

The ideal thing to do is for the entire Palatine township to consolidate all their antique, inefficient little one-teacher schools into one fine consolidated school located in Palatine, the same as Crystal Lake has had for the last 20 years. Or the same as our high school, except to furnish transportation for the children and take them off of the dangerous highway, out of the severe storms in bad weather, and away from molestation by adults, which I have personally seen in our community. Make them safe and comfortable while going to school and treat our children as children. In addition to being subjected to the hazards of the highways, severe cold weather, storms and molestation, they are being deprived of an elementary education.

On May 25, 1939, I stopped at the Hicks Body Co., Inc., Lebanon, Indiana, which has been in the business of manufacturing school buses for many years, and secured some information about school buses, and the cost of same.

In answer to my questions, they told me that the usual way a school district handled a situation like ours was to buy the bus body and let out a bid to people with a suitable truck chassis on which to mount the body and haul the children to school for the nine month term. They thought the usual bids were for about $50.00 or $60.00 per month to furnish the truck chassis and haul the children to and from school. Since the cost of school bus bodies is reasonable, I think this is a splendid suggestion for the entire Palatine township.

A 16'8" all metal school bus body seating 36 children in adult seats, with all of the safety devices, emergency door, signs, signals, etc., can be bought by a school district for $704.40.

We, of the rural districts, can have the better schooling for our children and also haul the high school children to school as cheap as we can run our one-room school houses, and Palatine can have a better school for their children in a fine big consolidated school.

And, in addition to that, it will boom Palatine's business in bringing all of these people who number in the thousands, and give them a home town, which we haven't at this time. We are scattering our business all over the country.

Crystal Lake has a fine large consolidated school, grade and high school, modern to the last detail, and their tax rate is lower than out District No. 13's rate of $1.07, or Palatine's $1.07. Crystal Lake's consolidated elementary school tax rate is $1.01.

High School Commencement Is Thursday

Arlington Heights will graduate its largest class, numbering 126, Thursday evening. Naturally, with such a large class, there can be no unreserved seats and admission will be by ticket only.

Eight members of the graduating class will divide the honor of delivering the address, and music will be furnished by the mixed ensemble and the male octette, and a vocal solo by Miss Evelyn Jarvis.

The baccalaureate services for the 1939 graduating class of Arlington Heights township high school, were held Sunday evening in the school auditorium. One hundred and twenty-four seniors marched in their caps and gowns to professional music played by Marjorie Moodie and a recessional by Elvera Kastling. Several musical selections were presented by the girls' ensemble under the direction of Mr. Donald Costain. There was also a vocal solo by Jeanette Oos.

The baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Rev. R. C. Schellhase. He spoke on the subject "The Four Dimensional Life." His treatment of that theme was most inspirational, receiving the undivided attention of the graduating class and the remainder of the audience alike. He urged his listeners to live not in one dimension, length of years alone, but in four. These four are length of years, breadth of love and sympathy, depth of conviction, and height of creative aspiration. Such a life, Rev. Schellhase said, would avail itself of every opportunity presented by the problems which arise in meeting the demands of the modern world. Such lives are needed, if the problems of the world are to be met in a Christian manner.

The invocation and the benediction were pronounced by Rev. J. R. Kalwitz. Rev. E. L. Stevens delivered the scripture reading. The auditorium was filled to overflowing by the graduates and the many parents and friends in attendance. The service, last of its kind to be held in the present structure, was a most appropriate and beautiful step in the ending of the high school careers of the many young men and women who took part in it.

Karstens Installs New Motor Equipment

The expansion program of W. F. Karstens, Arlington Heights funeral director, did not stop with a modernized funeral home, but extended to motor equipment. Mr. Karstens recently put into service a new funeral coach and an ambulance that are the very latest in such equipment.

Below is shown the two cars, closed and open views of each.

The funeral coach is a Packard, with automatic side loading and equalizing, the latter accessory is the very latest and keeps the casket table absolutely level no matter what is the condition of the roadway.

The coach is a seven passenger auto, built especially for the transportation of the sick. It accommodates a patient on the very latest cot equipment for such a car, with air wheels and a mattress of such construction that the patient rests almost on air. The car is so arranged that it will carry five passengers in addition to patient.

The Wilson P. T.A. held their final meeting last Friday at the Wilson school. Plans were discussed for a picnic in the near future. After the meeting a delightful program was enjoyed by the children and members alike. Mr. Meineke showed moving pictures of bees and flowers. It showed the bees in the process of gathering honey, etc. It was a color picture, beautiful and educational.

Mr. Meineke also showed a moving picture of the south taken while they were on their recent trip. We are thankful to Mr. Meineke, for giving his time so generously and making it a gala evening for the kiddies. Mrs. Bruce Jarvis was present at the meeting and her lovely daughter, Madeleine sang beautifully to the accompaniment of Marjorie Baker, pianist. Miss Reynolds, a teacher of Wheeling, assisted Miss Coopersmith in leading the children in singing "God Bless America."

The others who entertained were Walter Mattingly, who sang "Home on the Range," and the Dorn sisters, Annaliese and Martha, who performed a tap dance; Martha also played the piano. Refreshments were served and everybody had a delightful time.

Archie La Salle won a medal as a sharpshooter at the State Police annual meet in Joliet.

We are glad to hear Mr. Leo Heinrichs is home from the hospital. We wish him a very speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Carlino attended the wedding of Gertrude Hanson and George Eckert at the Medill Lutheran church in Chicago. The reception was held at the Lions.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Berg entertained Mr. and Mrs. Al Berg of Chicago last week-end.

Fire Interrupts Mt. Prospect Board

The Mt. Prospect village board meeting Tuesday evening was disrupted by a fire call, as two of the Board members and the Village Clerk are members of the Fire Department. A call came in that a car was burning at Elmhurst and Wille st. and the firemen quickly extinguished the fire with little damage to the car.

Following resumption of business, the Board members got into a long discussion with representatives of a firm of auditors who are helping the Village prepare an audit in connection with the assessment records and it developed that to complete the job of putting all the assessment records in shape, to a point where the Village would be in a position to defend itself against suits by bondholders, would require several more months work.

The architect who designed and directed the addition to our public school building advised that the Government may again make some PWA grants to municipalities and advised the Board that if it contemplates the erection of a new Village hall or community building, it should get an application in as soon as possible to get in on some of this "easy money."

Youngsters Present Interesting Program

The closing program of the Mt. Prospect Kindergarten was held last Thursday morning in the Lutheran school auditorium at 10 a. m. After months of tedious training these youngsters put on a program that would surprise most everyone. Thirteen children participated. Bobby Johnson and George Wax were on the sick list and could not be present.

There were eighteen numbers rendered and not once was any child coached. Never was there the slightest evidence of confusion, and every child seemed to be confident. Miss Ella Grudick, their teacher, deserves the highest praise and congratulations for her achievements with her group of youngsters.

The program consisted of songs by the group and by individuals, with Mrs. E. D. Janssen accompanying at the piano.

The world's record for the hundred yard dash is 9.4 seconds. Everett McCowan, one of the skaters appearing with the ice troupe in "The Ice Follies of 1939" at the Catlow Theatre on Sunday and Monday, does it in 4.2 seconds.

Others include Henie Buck, known as the "ice clown," Roy Shiptad, American professional figure skater, champion, and Bess Ehrhardt, known as "Sweetheart of the Ice."

The instant appreciation of a great love to which they thought they were immune is enjoyed by Irene Dunne and Charles Boyer in their stellar roles in "Love Affair" coming to the Catlow Theatre on Sunday and Monday. Miss Dunne is cast as the fiancée of a wealthy art collector, while Boyer enacts the role of a renowned international playboy engaged to an American heiress.

"Hopalong Cassidy," America's most popular outdoor action hero, has two narrow escapes in the new range thriller, "Renegade Trail," coming on Tuesday to the Catlow Theatre. One is from Cupid's arrow, as personified by Charlotte Wynters. William Boyd's newest leading lady. Double featured on Tuesday with "Renegade Trail" is "Society Lawyer," starring Walter Pidgeon, Virginia Bruce and Leo Carrillo.

Fans Meet Star Face-to-Face In Technicolor Hit

For the first time in her career audiences are going to have the opportunity of meeting Shirley Temple face to face when they see her in "The Little Princess," the No. 1 star's first Technicolor production which comes Sunday, Monday and Tuesday to the Arlington Theatre.

It was in answer to thousands of requests that Darryl F. Zanuck, production chief of 20th Century-Fox, decided to cast the dimpled star in "The Little Princess," and the studio's foremost talent was enlisted to actually put the story on celluloid. The addition of Technicolor entailed tremendous extra costs and created new problems in lighting, costuming and set decoration.

No star has ever appeared before the Technicolor cameras without benefit of makeup and the color experts insisted that even Shirley would be no exception. After making three tests of the star, one with makeup, one with a powder makeup, and one without any makeup whatever, it was found that Shirley looked best in her natural coloring. And so, in "The Little Princess," the dimpled star appears just as she is in real life.

U. S. Navy Cooperated In "Wings of Navy"

When one of the major Hollywood film companies produces a navy picture like the Warner Bros. Cosmopolitan production, "Wings of the Navy," which is at the Palatine Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, the studio always has a silent partner. The silent partner is the United States Navy.

The United States navy invests the time of its officers who go over the film company's script, help to supervise the filming of the story, and who finally sit on a board of ultimate approval on the completed film.

Lloyd Bacon, who directed "Wings of the Navy," and who also directed three other popular service thrillers, "Submarine D-1," "Here Comes the Navy" and "Devil Dogs of the Air," is the best known and most successful director of Hollywood service pictures. Bacon occupies a unique position in this regard, for he not only has turned out a succession of navy service films which have been 100 per cent hits with the public, but his lesser known capacity as a lieutenant-commander in the United States Naval Reserve, has managed to please the navy, from top to bottom, with his pictures.

The second feature is "The Code of the Streets with Harry Carey and the little tough guys.

Trying to use New Deal strategy in a baseball game just does not work out and Arlington found that at the end of the fiscal nine innings they were closing their books with a 9-5 deficit against them. Giving a subsidy of eight runs to the opposition while only collecting two hits in seven innings as their ability, but after this exhibition of revenue put the local boys deep in the red.

The Higgins club scored in the first, second, fourth and fifth when Arlington obligingly threw the ball over everything but the grandstand. In the eighth Schaeffer walked Pasen and Kane and then threw the ball over Pedersen's head when Samuels bunted. That filled the bases. When Leroy sent a bounder to Pedersen he intended to throw to Bolte for a force out at home, but took a swell aim at Heller Lumber Co. and sailed the ball high over Bolte into Douglas ave., scoring two runs. Patty's single to right scored two more.

For seven innings Samuels threw an assortment of slow balls mixed with slower balls and the Redwings power slammed out two singles, one by Pedersen in the fourth and another by Frank Brodman in the sixth.

Manager Page passed a resolution appropriating a rally in the eighth so Arlington, after seven innings of dreaming, crossed home plate five times. Brodman and Wahl walked, Pedersen got his second hit followed by Schaeffer's single. Willert doubled and four runs were home. Firnbach's single scored Willert for the fifth run.

The ninth looked like another rally when J. Brodman walked, filling the bases. Cole then came in to pitch and retired the side without a score.

Two weeks layoff due to wet grounds certainly left the local lads without any of their accustomed daffiness better days are ahead when everybody will do things right instead of wrong.

Beginning right where they left off on Memorial Day the Arlington Redwings continued their erring ways and absorbed their second defeat of the season. Practically all of the boys went down to defeat fighting—with the umpire—but failed to even challenge the visitors when it came to using bats for the purpose of getting base hits, which, according to the rule book, is the main offensive and run getting weapon.

Every one breathed easy for three innings as neither the Maciejewskis or Arlington threatened to score. A double play by Arlington in the first eclipsed any bright ideas of the visitors.

But in the fourth the Chicago lads acquired a monopoly on all the bases. Sainati, Linn, and Strand singled sending one run in. Hits by Skale, Polivka, and a sacrifice bunt sent in three more for a total of 4 runs on 5 hits. That was the last inning that the visitors hit safely.

Arlington power hitters could do no better than pop up for five innings, no one coming close to a hit. Out of the fifteen putouts in that time, eight were flyballs and three strikeouts. Being behind tightened up the hitters. The third man to reach first base was Sherwin when he walked to start the sixth. Joe Brodman drove the first Arlington hit to left center. Wahl doubled down the left field line to score Sherwin. It looked like a rally, but as quick as it started, it was over. Josie Brodman was trapped off third, according to the umpire. Frank Brodman went out from second to first and Pedersen sent a fly to the first baseman.

The other three runs of the Maciejewskis were scored without a hit with compliments of the Redwings. Strand was safe on an error, Couclission walked, Skale landed on first on an error and two runs scored on sacrifice flies.

All the visitors hits were singles but aided by the Redwing errors were more than needed. Arlington could collect by two singles and two doubles. Schaeffer pitched a good game but support in the field and the lack of runs kept his club on their heels all the way. Defensive work was good in some spots. In the ninth Willert made a diving catch of a line drive taking the ball off the tips of the grass. Wahl had ten assists on ground balls and two put outs for a total of twelve chances.

Pedersen limbered up his arm in the ninth as Schaeffer moved over to first. After walking the first man he found the plate and set down the next three hitters.

After playing a night game Thursday evening at Glenview to see if the boys can do any better under the lights, than they can in daylight, the Redwings will meet the Greenview A. C. of Chicago on Sunday. This will be the first time this club has ever appeared at the local stadium and is part of the policy of Manager Page to bring the best clubs from the Midwest League to Arlington Heights.

Redwings Announce Games For June & July

Manager Page of the Arlington Redwings has released the schedule for June and July. Several feature games are on the list which will give local fans a chance to see several teams which have never appeared at the local park before.

One game is away from home, on Thursday evening, June 8, the Redwings will play a night game at Glenview beginning at 8:45 p. m.

June 8—At Glenview (Night game 8:45 p. m.)
June 11—Greenwood A. C. (Here)
June 18—Glenview (Here)
June 25—Chicago Police (Here) (City champions)
July 2—Higgins Boosters (Here)
July 4—Johnson Motors (Here)
July 9—Clen Elynn (Here)
July 16—Chicago Firemen (Here)
July 23—Open
July 30—Northwest Motors (Here)

More details especially about the games with the Champion Chicago Police and Firemen games will be given later on.

The Higgins Boosters who just won here, will return again. The Northwest Motors and Greenwood A. C. have never come out before, but their past record indicates that each club is well organized and better than average.

Booking games is rather difficult as it is impossible to obtain the more famous semi-pro clubs without guaranteeing them a medium sized bank roll. Under the present system of free will offering at the games, there never will be a chance to obtain any classier clubs. The only alternative would be to request an admission fee which the club does not care to do.

No More 'Dust Bowls' At Arlington Park

Racetrack "dust bowls" soon will be things of the past, thanks to a new sprinkler-harrows invented by Fred Radtke, assistant general manager, and Harold Lamb, track superintendent, of Arlington Park.

In the past ladies summer finery and gents light togs have had to take severe punishment from the heavy dust clouds rolled up by track harrows working between races. Many a bright-hued holiday ensemble has been wrecked by an afternoon of dust clouds worked off a dry racing strip, by the sharp-toothed harrows. Track officials know that the dust nuisance can sharpen a temper almost as quickly as a losing mutuels ticket.

The new track device, which will be introduced at the Arlington Park meeting opened June 26, is a combination of sprinkler and harrows mounted on a fast track. To the rear of the 1,100 gallon sprinkler is attached a 22-foot wide harrows, specially designed.

A compression pump throws out a tent-like screen of water 75 feet wide and 30 feet back over the harrows, completely enveloping and smothering the dust thrown up by the latter.

So weep no more, my lady, and growl no more, my man. Through the inventiveness of Arlington's Radtke and Lamb the racetrack "dust bowl" has been eliminated.

June 13, Wheeling vs. Buffalo.
June 14, Gaare's vs. Leo's.
June 15, Mt. Prospect vs. Pal-Waukee.

LEO'S 8, WHEELING, 4
Glenn Granzin held Wheeling to nine scattered hits and that was good enough to give Leo's its first win of the season. Wheeling hit Granzin freely only in the sixth inning when they got four straight hits.

In the 6th inning "Peanuts" Meyer hit a looping liner in back of second which bounced off the second baseman's finger tips into Dick Taage's barehand who batted the ball in the air and then dove headlong to catch the ball about six inches above the ground.

PAL-WAUKEE BEATS BUFFALO, 5 TO 3
On Elmer White's Two Home Runs Elmer White drove in four runs in the first two frames to beat Buffalo Grove, 5-3.

R. Borre, B. Firnbach, and R. Harms collected six of Buffalo's hits.

In the last 4 innings R. Borre allowed only one hit. Ed. White, Pal-Waukee's pitcher, was a great pitcher with men on bases.

TROUNCE GAARE'S 18 TO 7

In a loosely played ball game in which there were 25 runs, 27 hits, 11 errors and ten walks, Heidorn's gave Gaare's the worst beating the team ever received.

Although Gaare's obtained seven runs only three were earned and Steve Urlick was pitching good ball after the first inning.

In fairness to Gaare's it must be said that they did not have all their regular players and that Heidorn's received the majority of the breaks.

LEO'S BEAT BUFFALO, 10 TO 9
Buffalo dropped its 4th straight game by a 10 to 9 count. The game was a see-saw affair with Leo's scoring 2 runs in the last half of the sixth for the margin of victory.

Ets Weber was the hitting and fielding star of the game. Buffalo isn't as bad a ball team as its record indicates and will bounce back soon.

The Bensenville track squad shown above was the best that Coach Trapp has produced in his long period of service. The Bison team was unusually well balanced for a small school squad. Not only did the team win the Northwest Conference championship, take second in the Palatine Relays class B division and win the DuPage Centennial Invitational meet, but the Bisons were also victorious in all six of their dual meets with Arlington, Leyden, Palatine, Barrington and the York reserves.

Coach Trapp deserves a lot of credit for developing such a strong team. The majority of the squad are sophomores and juniors insuring Bensenville just as strong a team in 1940. The only seniors to be lost are Capt. Katayama, hurdler and high jumper; Kvevli, broad jumper; Geils, pole vaulter and 440 yard runner; and Mills, javelin thrower and relay runner.

While the game is new to most of the boys they have come along very nicely and play a good game of ball with a few games under their belt.

The Park Ridge team is one of the best teams in the Northwest Suburbs and two good games are in store for the fans of Mt. Prospect.

Herb Hildebrand, a pitcher well known in and around Des Plaines in former years, will pitch for Park Ridge. Al Hedke and Wally Bach will pitch for Meeske's.

Little James Robert Hoffmann received his name officially in a service of Christian baptism held in the home last Sunday afternoon. Rev. D. C. Morrison officiated and a number of relatives were present to witness the ceremony and share the joy of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Williams and Mr. William Wiest, motored to Lake Cretch, Wisconsin, Saturday, May 27, and returned on Memorial Day. Although the fishing season on some of the game fish was still closed, they reported a fair catch and much good sport.

Miss M. Johnson and friend motored to Urbana Sunday where they visited Mr. Rollin Johnson and brought back his luggage prior to his return for the summer vacation period.

Sixes, E. J. Wellin and Mrs. G. Sicks left Monday morning for Monmouth, Ill., to pick up Mr. Donald Wellin, who completed his sophomore year at Monmouth College. From there they motored on to Columbia, Missouri, to call for Mr. John Sicks, who is enrolled in the school of journalism there.

Members of the eighth grade graduating class enjoyed a party held in the school last Wednesday evening. Their mothers shared the evening as hostesses for the party.

Mrs. Harold Hartmann was pleasantly surprised on Sunday evening by a birthday celebration planned for her by members of her family and employees. Although somewhat weary after a busy day, a few hours of merrymaking helped to drive away the tired feelings and all had a happy time.

An impressive service was held in the chapel of St. Francis, private chapel at Childerley, last Saturday morning when eight little children, residents of Childerley, made their first communion at a mass celebrated by Father A. J. Becker, and assisted by the four Sisters of St. Mary's church, Buffalo Grove. The chapel was beautifully decorated with a variety of flowers. The children all were dressed in white and included six small boys and two small girls. One of the older girls, Barbara Haben, assisted the Sisters in singing for the service.

Mr. John Haben, Mrs. Cecelia Mors, and Mrs. Fred Peters and Mrs. Virginia Loy, of Chicago, were guests at the Victor Haben home on Memorial day.

Job-Creation Contest of NYA

North Cook county youth, particularly the unemployed young men and girls, set their thinking caps today for the NYA Job-Creation contest announced recently by State Director William J. Campbell of the National Youth Administration. More than 300 valuable prizes are being offered throughout the state to the youths who present the best ideas for making money, either through developing novel means of service, gadgets, inventions, or new uses for farm products. Three prizes will be awarded in North Cook County to youths presenting the best original thoughts on Job-Creation and three runners up, or six in all, will be eligible for the NYA district awards which will be made in eight sections of the state. Counties in this district are: Cook, DuPage, Grundy, Iroquois, Kane, Kankakee, Kendall, Lake and Will. Six valuable district prizes and three honorable mentions then will be eligible for the grand state prizes to be awarded at the State Fair at Springfield in August. All entries must be in the mail before midnight, July 22. Any youth, boy or girl, under 25 years of age in North Cook county may enter the contestants. The prizes for winning contestants in the state range from cash awards and university scholarships to permanent jobs in private industry, a round trip airplane ride to the New York world's fair and a tractor.

Graduates Prepare Own Program For Commencement

The Commencement exercises of Wheeling school were held in the school gym, which was almost filled with relatives and friends of the graduates, on Thursday evening, June 1. The processional of the class was led by two little first graders, Donna Jean Miller and Lorraine McNeil. Members of the graduating class participated in the program as follows:

Invocation—Rev. D. C. Morrison.
Welcome—Charles Deffenbaugh.
Greetings—Mr. M. C. Bollman.
Songs—Upper grade choir—"Green Cathedral," and "The Dancers."
Class Education Costs—Sylvia Le Rocca.
Presentation of Achievement Ribbons—Douglas Bingham.
What It Means to Graduate—Edna Ragusin.
Happiness—Doris Weider.
Useful Citizens—Marian Miller.
School Spirit—Anna Leibl.
Success—Charlotte Sierrakowski.
Farewell to Seventh Grade—Ruth Schmidt.
Finding Work—Edward Glueck.
Planning Your Life—John Bingham.
Class Song—"Night Will Never Stay."

Presentation of Diplomas—Mr. Henry Grandt.
Class Thanks—Edith Looze.
Songs—"Wings of Song," "Robin in the Rain," "Nanon Waltz," "Finlandia."
Class Farewell—Arthur Wesolek.
Recessional.

The message brought to the class by Mr. M. C. Bollman, Asst. Supt. of Schools, was brief but helpful. He pointed out three things very essential to their continued success which were "a will to work, dependability and service." The principal, Miss Bertha Keith, in recommending the class for graduation, called attention to the somewhat unique quality of the program of the evening, in that the graduates had selected their own topics and prepared their own talks, which were necessarily brief, but well done and undoubtedly more meaningful to graduates and audience alike, than more lengthy and polished "copy-book" orations.

RAIN DOES NOT DAMPEN PICNIC SPIRIT OF WHEELING PUPILS

The unfavorable weather last Friday prevented carrying out the plans to hold the school picnic in the Forest Preserve, but did not dampen the picnic spirit of the children. They gathered at the school at the regular morning hour and decided to hold their picnic in the gym and school grounds. Most of the morning was spent in games in the gym and their picnic dinner was spread there. By afternoon the weather had cleared so that games and races could be held out doors. With plenty of ice cream and pop for frequent "pick-ups" the picnic kept going strong until about 4 o'clock when the teachers decided it was time to dismiss for the year with everyone in happy spirits.

TWO NEW TEACHERS ON WHEELING SCHOOL STAFF

Wheeling School District 21 will have two new teachers on its staff again next year. Miss Harriet Henry of Arlington Heights will teach the first and second grades in place of Miss Marcella Gamache, who accepted a school position nearer her family on Chicago's south side. Miss Marie Tulle of Chicago will be the teacher of the fifth and sixth grades. Miss Tulle is a sister of Miss Catherine Tulle who taught here several years ago.

SMALL VOTE AT WHEELING

The Judicial election on Monday drew out a rather small percentage of the voters in Wheeling Village precinct, with only 83 of the 302 voters registered voting. 44 straight Democratic ballots were cast. The special propositions were both defeated locally with 43 against and 14 for the Oak Forest project and 41 against and 16 for the County Hospital project.

Three Graduate as Registered Nurses

The Misses Deborah Port and Mary Sarniak were members of a class of 47 nurses graduated from the West Suburban Hospital Nursing School last Wednesday evening, in a very impressive service held in the Congregational church of Oak Park.

Probationers led the processional followed by the supervisors and graduates. Internes of the hospital served as ushers. An inspiring address entitled "Memories and Adversities" was delivered by Dr. Albert Buckner Coe, pastor of the church. The diplomas were presented by Dr. Oscar Hawkinson, chairman of the Nursing School faculty. A reception was held in the church parlors after the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Haben, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. R. Sandeen and Miss M. Swenson were among those who attended the service and reception.

Miss Marjorie Mohr was one of a class of 17 nurses who graduated from the Walther Memorial hospital, Chicago, formerly Lutheran Memorial, recently. The graduation ceremony was held in a Lutheran church near the hospital on the evening of Hospital Day, May 12. Undergraduate nurses served as ushers to the graduates. Music for the service was presented by the Student Nurses Choir. Addresses were made by Mr. Martin, Supt. of the Hospital, Dr. Seidell of the hospital board and Miss Winquist, director of nurses. Members of the class were presented with their diplomas and also their graduate nurse pins. After the service a reception for the graduates was held.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Utpadel, Mr. and Mrs. Waterstraet and the Misses Evelyn and Elaine Mohr were among the guests at their sister's graduation.

TWO GRADUATE FROM LAKE ZURICH SCHOOLS

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Harris attended the graduation exercises of Lake Zurich high school and public school last week to see their children receive their diplomas. Their daughter, Miss Roberta, graduated from high school on Friday evening. On Thursday evening their son, Norman, was a member of the grade school graduating class.

Norman and his parents were happily surprised when he was awarded the American Legion School Award presented by the Barrington Post. This attractive medal is awarded each year to the boy voted most outstanding in qualities of courage, honor, leadership, scholarship and service.

This Week in Washington...

by RALPH E. CHURCH
Representative, 10th Congressional District

Washington, D. C., June 3.—By one of the smallest majorities recorded during the present British Parliament, His Majesty's Government, under Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, was successful in securing the adoption of a new policy for Palestine. It has caused considerable concern in Washington. Since reports of the new policy have reached the National Capital repeated appeals have been addressed to the President of the United States and the Secretary of State to make a vigorous protest to the British Government against this new policy for Palestine.

A very strong sentiment has expressed itself in our Congress during the past two weeks to the effect that Great Britain, for purely political reasons, is sacrificing a solemn promise it made to the Zionists that Palestine would be the national home of the Jews. While the United States is not a member of the League of Nations under which the British Mandate over Palestine is governed, the people of the United States have a very real interest in the Balfour promise to the Zionists. Not only has a great amount of American capital been invested in making Palestine a Jewish national home, but following the Balfour Declaration, inaugurating it, President Woodrow Wilson expressed American approval of the pledge.

Since the Balfour Declaration of 1917 and the establishment of the British Mandate over Palestine in 1923, the Zionists have looked upon the Holy Land as their home—a haven of refuge from oppression and persecution. The Balfour Declaration was undoubtedly issued to win the support of the Jewish people in behalf of the Allied Powers in the conduct of the World War. In a sense it was a political pledge, but that fact does not make it any less binding. It may be said to be a promise of reward for services to the Allied Powers and those services having been rendered, victory attained, it is felt that all the Allied Powers are at least morally bound to keep a promise.

The so-called White Paper issued by Great Britain reads in pertinent part: "H. M. government therefore now declare unequivocally that it is not part of their policy that Palestine should become a Jewish state." This has been interpreted as being an outright repudiation of the promise to the Jewish people, and coming at this particular time adds to the difficulties confronting them in Europe today. It aggravates the vital problem of Jewry as to where to go to escape the oppressions and persecutions in Europe. They have naturally looked to Palestine as the place of refuge, and the homeland of their fathers is also to be closed to them.

However, the British Government may explain the new policy, it is undoubtedly true that the paramount reason for it is political. As the Balfour Declaration of 1917 was issued to win the support of the Jewish people in the conduct of the World War, this White Paper of 1939 no doubt was issued for a view to gaining the support of the Arabs in the event of a war between Great Britain and the Rome-Berlin axis. The Arab world is an important factor in England's domination of the Mediterranean.

Vital to Great Britain is her navy and indispensable to a navy is oil. About 30 per cent of the oil imported by England comes from Arab territory. This constitutes one of the reasons why the British Government is anxious to keep the Arab states on friendly terms and represents one of the "political reasons" for the recently announced policy with respect to Palestine.

Great Britain is thus accused of repudiating an obligation to the Zionists in order that she may advance her imperial needs. It is abundantly clear that in the great game of international politics as being played in Europe today moral and legal obligations are sacrificed for military and economic power.

Make Ladies Stockings Out of Coal

If Miss Naomi Anderson's shapely limbs tingle with pardonable pride at the American Retail Coal Association's fifth annual solid fuel exposition now in progress at the Hotel Sherman, it is because they are encased in a shimmering pair of two-thread sheer chifon hose that cost $250,000. Any girl's gams would be likely to tingle under similar circumstances.

Another amazing bit of information regarding the stockings which Miss Anderson is exhibiting at the coal exposition is that they are made from a piece of coal and therefore constitute one of the exposition's outstanding displays.

Miss Anderson exhibits the million dollar stockings all this week at 9 p. m. each evening in the exposition hall.

Nylon, the name of the new coal derivative from which stockings and other filmy feminine garments can be made, is a development of the E. I. duPont de Nemours laboratories and was discovered by the late Dr. Wallace H. Carothers.

Plan Breeding Ass'n For Better Blood Lines

Holsteins Included
By Committee To Improve Herd Stock

For a great many years certain European countries have been developing a method of introducing the very best possible blood into their herds through artificial breeding associations. This worked so successfully that it was tried some time ago in the state of New Jersey with success and at the present time two organizations are being formed in the state of Illinois. One is practically in operation in southern Illinois. The state university, under the direction of Dr. Robert Graham, is working out a number of problems involved in the beef cattle herd at that institution.

Recently a meeting was held at Woodstock and was attended by dairymen from most of the counties in the Chicago milk shed. At that meeting about 500 Holsteins were indicated as possible members in an organization in this territory. A good proportion of these cows were from Cook county. A committee was set up with Mr. C. S. Rhode of the Dairy Extension Department of the State University farm. On the committee from Cook county are Geo. O. Fairweather, O. G. Barrett and Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. Details of the association will be developed as rapidly as possible.

It will be possible for a farmer to dispense with a bull altogether on his farm if he wishes to put all of his cows into such an association or a farmer may enter five or ten or any such number of cows from which he expects to secure exceptional breeding stock. The costs were reported to be a very little more than the maintenance of a herd sire on the farm. In the purchase of a bull to use in such an association the very best possible blood lines can be secured that would be almost prohibitive for the average individual farmer to own. We believe that such an organization merits the interest of the average dairyman who wishes to improve his herd and to have the best possible blood lines that are available. It is felt that there will also be an association for the Guernsey breeders as well as the Holstein breeders.

LAW ON THE FARM

Wills—Generally speaking, good will is not as difficult to prepare as most people believe. Bad wills are nearly always a result of wanting to provide for too many contingencies, hasty preparation, bad grammar or failure to regard the fairly simple requirements of the law.

The Illinois legislature has definitely set out the essential elements of a valid will. Briefly stated, they are as follows:

1. A man 21 or a woman 18 years old, of sound mind and memory, may make a will.
2. The will must be in writing and signed by the maker, or by someone in his presence by his direction.
3. The will must be witnessed and signed in the presence of the maker by two credible witnesses who will swear before the county court that they saw the deceased sign the will, or that they acknowledged it to be his act.

Dates and addresses are not necessary in a will, although it is a good plan to insert a date showing when it was made. The language should be simple and direct, so it will not be misinterpreted, due to the fact that courts have had to construe the meaning of particular phrases in wills and have found it necessary to give them meanings which may not always correspond with the maker's intent, it is worth while to consult a competent lawyer about the wording of the instrument.

Wills may be used to dispose of all kinds of property, both real and personal, to create trusts, or to give many different kinds of limited interests to desired parties.

The following will is adequate to give all a man's property to his wife.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT
June 1, 1939

I give all my property, both real and personal, to my wife, Sarah. John Jones (Signature)
Richard Roe (Signature)
Witness
Mary Brown (Signature)

Frequently persons in their last illness, under conditions making the execution of a written will impracticable, wish to make a testamentary disposition of their property. The legislature has provided that under such circumstances, personal property can be conveyed by an oral statement, provided it is heard by two disinterested witnesses and committed to writing within 20 days after it is made; and provided further that it shall be proved by two other disinterested witnesses that the will was committed to writing within 10 days after the maker's death. Real estate cannot be disposed of in this manner.

The statutory law on wills may be found in Chapter 148 of the Illinois Revised Statutes.

Cooperative Egg Selling

A number of counties have met from time to time in the northern part of the state of Illinois with Mr. H. H. Alp of the Poultry Extension Division of the College of Agriculture, in the interest of cooperative egg auctions.

A study has been made of a number of egg auctions in the country. Mr. Alp used the figures from the Wooster, Ohio organization that has been in operation for a number of years. The benefits that have been secured from this auction are improvement of the quality of eggs sold. The average poultryman begins to realize that those who are getting the money and producing a type of egg that receives the best money are those who go in for size and quality. The price range began several years ago about 4c below the New York prices. Gradually these prices have worked up until now they are about 2c above the New York price.

"There is a question in our minds," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes, "as to the use that Cook county can make of such an egg auction if it is established in this territory. Most of our better poultry producers have established markets and are receiving a rather satisfactory price for their eggs. However, there are so many farmers that maintain only one or two hundred layers during the winter and their volume is not enough to induce them to work for a better price. However, we feel that poultry has been neglected here in Cook county. We find that the average farm has far less poultry than many southern Illinois farmers. There are many farmers in the southern part of the state who have five hundred to a thousand layers and are shipping their eggs to New York and receiving top prices, their eggs selling as New Jersey firsts. There is undoubtedly a potential market in Chicago for quality eggs and will be for a long time. This is one food commodity that usually comes over the counter to the consumer in bad condition. People consume a very low amount of eggs because it is impossible to get quality eggs. We feel that both our truck and dairy farmers could add a good source of income to their farms by developing a flock of at least 500 layers. Most farmers who keep poultry and give it particular attention so far as management and breeding goes depend on a net income of $1.00 per layer per year. $500 net income is not to be passed over too lightly in these times. Poultry has been thought of as something for the women to fool with but that is not true. Poultry is the one enterprise on farms in Cook county that is showing a good profit at this time."

A registered Guernsey cow has recently been sold by F. W. Knott to S. E. Karsten of Arlington Heights, Ill. This animal is Polly Bess Geraldine of Niles 44753 according to The American Guernsey Cattle Club, Peterborough, N. H.

YOUNG PIGS UNTHRIFTY?

"We have noted at this time of the year that many of the young pigs in farmers' pig lots are very unthrifty," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. "There are usually about three causes for this unthriftness namely worms, 'Necro' or an unbalanced ration."

Worms: Two of these causes of unthriftness come from old hog lots. Wherever hogs have been kept for a number of years there is an accumulation of worm eggs. Worm eggs are the size of a pin point and they cannot be seen with the naked eye. If worm eggs were as large as a grain of corn they would be about ten feet deep in the average hog lot. This demonstrates very clearly that a pig in an infested lot cannot expect to escape worms.

Remedy for Worms: First, if you have wormy pigs, get some kind of a good worm expeller. Worm expellers are fairly satisfactory and will remove perhaps three-fourths of the worms if the pigs are properly starved before the expeller is administered. There is one type of worm called the Thornhead worm that usually appears in wooded sections and is caused from eating grubs. Thornhead worms cannot be removed by expellers. They have their heads buried in the lining of the intestines and do not get the benefit of any medication. The only sensible remedy is where pigs are farrowed in a central hog house to thoroughly scald the pens with boiling water containing lye and to wash the sows' udders thoroughly just before farrowing. When the pigs are turned out they must be put on clean ground. This treatment has been demonstrated many times and is better than all the medicine that farmers can buy. Pigs that cough usually have worms because one stage of the worms passes through the lungs and produces an irritation.

"Necro," Necro is a soil disease that is found in lots where hogs have been kept for a number of years. It attacks young pigs particularly and causes a rotting of the lining of the intestines and stomach. Sometimes great areas of the digestive system will be involved making it impossible for the pigs to digest their food. This irritation causes diarrhea and the pigs grow thinner all the time with tight, leathery skins. There are many forms of this trouble. Sometimes the lips will be sore, joints may swell and in some cases the snout will be enlarged. This is an old yard disease and it is controlled the same as worms by putting the pigs on clean ground. Sometimes infected pigs may be put on clean ground and the disease will clear up. However, this is not always the case. There are a number of preparations sold for this disease which probably are worth a little bit less than nothing.

Liming Old Hog Lots: Many farmers attempt to clean up the soil in old hog lots by various means, such as plowing, seeding and especially the scattering of lime on the ground. Any of these are good, but in our opinion they cannot be more than about 5% effective. It is usually impossible to disinfect soil so thoroughly that worm eggs and necrotic diseases can be eliminated. Worm eggs are so resistant to medication that they can be carried for long months in solutions of carbolic acid and still be alive. The heat of hot water in cleaning pens is worth more than the corrosive factors of any kind of disinfectants. The only remedy to clean up old hog lots is time. Pigs need to be out of an old lot at least two years at the very least before these troubles begin to disappear. Even lots next to old lots are infected, because of the blowing of dust. Therefore in moving growing pigs distance should be a factor so far as old lots are concerned.

Balanced Rations: Many pigs when they start to eat are fed corn, middlings, bread, potatoes and other roots. A pig needs the equivalent of 1/4 pound of tankage a day or one-half a gallon skim milk a day to balance up a ration when they are on full feed. This balancer should be carried through the whole life of the pig. Hogs that are on alfalfa, clover or even blue grass may have one-half of this amount because they get one-half protein from alfalfa and young grass. As a rule when they are fed supplement they need about twice as much of the supplement as they do tankage because the basis of the supplement is tankage and it is merely diluted with other feeds and is not quite so rich in protein as the tankage itself. It is our opinion, however, that most of the trouble in young growing pigs is the lack of sanitation or growing up in old hog lots infested with worms and digestive diseases.

17 Year Locust Appear On Fruit and Shade Trees

Cicada Brood
Comes To Life
After 17 Yr. Cycle

At this time a number have reported having seen the 17 year locusts on young fruit and forest trees. "These locusts are not actually typical locusts," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes, "but they are the Cicada."

"The locust is really a grasshopper with short feelers and they eat or devour foliage. The Cicada, on the other hand, is a bug that has piercing mouth parts and sucks sap from plants for its food. Therefore, no kind of spray that is a stomach poison can be applied to kill the Cicada. The Cicada is one of the strangest insects known. There are various broods in different localities all over the United States. There may be two or three broods during the 17 year cycle. The insects that are out now laying their eggs in the new growth of twigs or trees by stinging the twig and depositing the egg in the wood, usually the twig dies from the point where it is stung outward.

"Later on in season we will see these dead twigs on the trees. This causes the damage that the Cicada does. After awhile the egg hatches into a worm and feeds on the young growth of the trees and drops to the ground where it burrows and lives almost 17 years before it emerges again. One of the peculiarities of the Cicada is that it has well designed veins in its wings. "Near center of these wings the veins come together and form a letter 'W.' Superstitious people have thought the appearance of the Cicada with the 'W' on its wings indicated war. About the best way to protect young trees from Cicada damages is to cover the tree with mosquito bar at this time and leave them covered until after the insects have disappeared. Obviously this is impossible except

Farmers Testing For Bangs Disease

"A number of farmers have indicated their interest in eradicating Bang's disease from their herds at this time and are requesting the necessary papers from Dr. J. J. Lintner, 4101 Halsted st., Chicago," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes.

"There seems to be a number of reasons for increased interest in Bang's disease testing in Cook county. From conversation we have had with these farmers this seems to be the attitude that most of them are taking: First it is realized that herd infected with Bang's disease is a non-profitable herd. Many of the calves come prematurely and the cow proves to be a poor milker. Obviously, it does not pay to keep such a cow in the herd even though milk is cheap.

It is felt that eventually the city of Chicago will make requirements for such a test and farmers who do not have their herds clean will be in a very bad position. The state of Wisconsin, for a number of years, been leading Illinois on Bang's testing and we wouldn't be surprised if they would make a bid for the Chicago market knowing that Illinois is a little slow in getting their herds cleaned up. While imported cows are supposed to have passed a test we suspect personally that many of the dairy cows sold out of Wisconsin as free of abortion may not have been as represented. This is an assertion that cannot be established at all but the history of herds that have brought in cows from that state show they are not always free from abortion.

"We know that in the past Wisconsin used Illinois as a dumping ground for T. B. cattle and the northern counties are the ones that received all this cast off material and paid a very heavy price for it later on. Again a number of farmers feel that since the milk price is very low and the beef price is fairly good they might as well clean their herds at this time. The federal and state departments are furnishing indemnity payments for testing which funds expire July 1. After that time an appropriation will undoubtedly be passed by the state of Illinois to meet their half of the indemnity.

"The indemnity works something like this. Suppose a on rather small fruit or shade tree.

"The Cicada makes a peculiar noise that is a piercing whirr. Many entomologists have speculated as to the reason for this noise. Some seem to think it has no more significance than the rattling of an automobile or the snoring of a sleeping person, except that it may be rather annoying."

grade cow is a reactor and is appraised for $100 and she brings $60 in the yards. This leaves $40 difference. The state will pay 1/2 of $13.00 and the federal government will pay another $13.00 leaving the farmer a loss of $13.00. In no case will the state or federal government pay over $25.00 each for a grade cow nor over $50.00 each for a pure bred. The marketing cost must be born by the owner of the stock. A little later on when cattle begin to come in from the grass we expect beef prizes to recede a little and there will not be quite as attractive stock yards market as there is at the present time."

Who Wants to be Lazy with THIS one Around?

The model illustrated is the Buick Special model 41 four-door touring sedan $990 delivered at Flint, Mich.

SUMMER'S COMING! Warm sun—deep shade—buzzing bees—long, lazy days inviting you to take it easy!

Gonna fall for that? Well, maybe—if that car in your driveway is just a run-of-mine job. But suppose it's a Buick—then what?

Then, good sir, you're in for an active summer of honest-to-goodness fun!

You'll boss around a brilliant Dynaflex straight-eight engine as thrilling to handle as a flyrod—you'll be as comfortable as in your favorite hammock, in seats that are fashioned to fit your frame.

You'll explore the little-traveled back trails—and soft springs of coiled steel will cradle every jolt and jar.

Yes, you'll pilot a carriage that's staunch and snug and firm beneath you—yet every nudge of your treadle foot gives instant-quick action that'll bring a grin of deep delight.

And this far-ranging beauty is not only the car of the year for performance, but the value of the year for smart buyers. It's priced lower than a year ago—lower than you'd think to see it—lower even than some sixes!

And when you check all of the standard items that you've asked extra for elsewhere, you find that Buick costs less in the end even than some cars with lower advertised prices!

$894 AND UP delivered at Flint, Mich. *State and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

"Better buy Buick!"
